AMUSEMENTS

ETHEL CLAYTON IN "13th COMMANDMENT"

Stories about young married life are always interesting. Rupert Hughes' "Thirteenth Commandment" created quite a stir when it ran serially in a popular magazine and later as a novel. Now it has been adapted to the screen and will be shown with the beautiful star, Ethel Clayton, in the leading role at the Butler today.

The heroine is the pampered daughter of a middle western merchant. She has always had all she wanted and, when she becomes engaged to a young New Yorker supposes him to be rich because he spends lots of money on her. But tremendous sacrifices in order to satisfy her whims. She pursues an independent career and, when her fiancé is ready to wed her, goes to him on a "fifty-fifty" basis.

Added to the Feature will be a Bray Cartoon comedy.

Tomorrow the inimitable Charlie, in his fourth-million-dollar production, "A Day's Pleasure." Another feature on tomorrow's program will be Will Rogers, in "The Star Boarder."

CAMELS TO CONDUCT "CELEBRATION AT MINA."

Information received by R. L. Dent, state organizer for the Camels, from Jack Clark, secretary of the Mina caravan, says the lodge at that place has taken charge of the Independence Day celebration to be given there this year. The Mina caravan was organized by Dent a week ago and has ninety-three charter members.—Reno Gazette.
